

PICK A PPP PROMISE

Preventing Plastic Pollution (PPP) is working with communities and businesses in the Tamar area to halt the amount of single-use plastic getting into the River Tamar, its tributaries and out into the ocean.

To help, you could promise to:

- Arrange a waste audit
- Take part in a river clean up
- Allow a PPP volunteer day for staff

YOUR BUSINESS

We understand it can be a challenge to omit or even reduce single-use plastic in the workplace.

But, with a little effort, your business can be instrumental in preventing plastic pollution in the Tamar.

There are several ways your business can start, or enhance, measures to prevent plastic pollution at work.

FREE WASTE AUDIT

for Tamar catchment-based SMEs*

Your first step towards eliminating single-use plastic in the workplace is to book a FREE waste and resource audit with us.

Valued at £500, this will help you identify ways to reduce your plastic and other waste impacts, reducing both unnecessary costs and your business's impact on the environment.

*For non-Tamar SMEs or larger businesses, do contact us for more information on how we can help.

THINGS TO TRY

Making small changes in the office, workspace or studio can add up to a big win - why not try:

- Providing communal recycling bins rather than individual desk bins
- Using reusable mugs/refill bottles instead of plastic or disposable ones
- Asking for deliveries to be zero plastic and/or minimum packaging
- Supplying easily accessible composting containers
- Appointing a company volunteer to be your Environmental Champion
- Promoting the 3Ps - pee, poo, and paper should be the only things flushed down the loo.

LONG TERM

Create a Plastics Policy to review your use across all departments and research ways to lessen or avoid using single-use plastic.

Educate your employees on the waste principles of refuse/reduce/reuse/recycle, and help them adopt it.

Reward employees for supporting changes - you could even set up a Plastic Champion scheme or support them to volunteer with us.
